When I was a student in junior high school, I started learning English. My teachers made us learn many words for vocabulary tests, so I made many word lists. But, when the test was finished I threw away the lists, and made a new one for the next test. I used to get good marks on the tests, but after that I forgot many words, so I had a pattern like the forgetting curve in Chart 1. Now, I see that I should have kept my lists and revised them like in Chart 2. If I did that then I could remember more of the words for a longer time. This is import for me because I want to be an English teacher, so I will need to know a lot of words. I want to teach my students to study words like in Chart 2. (146 words)
